when play was called yesterday evening in the eighth annual Anglo-American cable chess match at the Assembly of the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, the score stood 2½ points to ½ in favor of the Americans, while the outlook on the remaining boards was a rather cheerful one. The only positive advantage the Britishers were able to gain was on the fifth board, where the surrender of Hymes to Bellingham is only a question of time. There is only one more board, where the American player is in difficulties and this is on board nine, where Howell has been is on board nine, where Howell has been bravely wrestling against a superior position, which his adversary, Gunston, established.
On the other hand Helms, Barry and Del-On the other hand Helms, Barry and Delmar have the preferable games, while Hodges and Mills will probably put another draw to their credit. Shortly before adjournment Newman's game against Michell became slightly inferior. Although the positions are apt to change their aspects, as on most boards full forces still prevail, it may be safely said that the Britishers will hardly be able to overcome the lead, which the Americans assumed on the first day of the match. The pairing was arranged as follows.

Helms. vs. Hooke I of decided that the Americans had the whire pieces on the even numbered boards, while the Britishers played white on the odd numbered boards. After the exchange of the usual curteous messages between the rams and the officials of the Brooklyn and the City of London chess clubs under the auspices of which organizations the match is played in the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, and the Canon Street Hotel London, the players went to work. As was stated before Pillsbury and Marshall, who are at present in London, had to play they respective games in London over the boards. On the first board Pillsbury made a Sicilian defence against Lawrence. In the course of events the American assumed the attack, but the game took a turn in favor of Lawrence, when Pillsbury, by sacrificing a pawn, achieved a draw by perpetual check.

Barry and Blackburne also produced a sicilian defence. Barry instituted an attack, of which he is very hopeful. Hodges at first obtained a powerful looking attack in a Ponziani opening, but Mills got out of it and the game now looks like a draw. Marshall offered a queen's gambit, established a strong attack and won brilliantly after 31 moves.

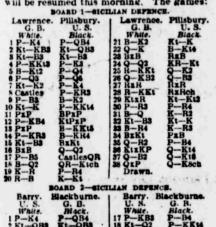

A queen's gambit declined on the fifth board between Hymes and Bellingham run even for a dozen moves, when Hymes lost a pawn, which he was unable to recover.

Voigt played a Ruy Lopez, which Trenchard resigned.

The Delmar-Jacobs and the Helms-Hooke games are favorable to the Americans, while they are still open affairs. The two remaining games are in favor of the Britishers, but not hopeless for the Americans. The games will be resumed this morning. The games:

LONDON, April 3.—The Henley stewards will meet to-morrow to consider Mr. R. C. Lehmann's amendment to the rule in regard to professional coaching of oarsmen competing in the annual regatta. Mr. Lehmann's proposal is to include scullers in the following rule, which was pussed at the last meeting of the stewards:

"No eight-oared, four-oared or pair-oared crews shall be allowed to compete [in the events at Henley] if within four weeks prior to the commencement of the regatta the crew shall have been coached during any practice in rowing, or shall have been controlled or directed in their training, by any person not considered an amateur oarsman, sculler or cockswain."

The Parks took every round, the final score being 28 to 5 in their favor. This makes five consecutive wins for the Parks. The Jersey City Whist Club are the next challengers, and the match will be played on Thursday evening. April 9 The Newark Bay Roat Club was represented last evening by George Christic, Capt. Harry Elsworth, S. W. Seeman and F. R. Seeman, while the Park Club four were Samuel Tewnsend, Capt. Stephen McCutchen, George I. Rogers and Joseph H. Howell.

Kid Broad Matched to Meet Billy Mahars.

Kid Broad, finding it difficult to secure a fight in the West, has returned East again. Broad was matched yesterday to meet Billy Mahars at Philadelphia before one of the clubs there next Monday night for six rounds. Mahars is a lightweight and will have the better of the weight by at least five pounds. Broad says that he is still ready to bax Young Corbett or Terry McGovern. Broad was one of the many puglists who challenged the winner of the fight at Ban Francisco last Tuesday night and thinks that he is entitled to first chance.

AUGUST BELMONT WINS AGAIN

HIS HASTINGS FILLY ORIZA TRIUMPHS AT BENNINGS.

—Mrs. Frank Foster Surprises the Form Players With Another Victory.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—August Belmont won his second race of the season at Bennings to-day when his filly Oriza, by Hastings—Donna de Ore, captured the second event, for maiden two-year-olds at half a mile. The Goughacres Stable's Interlude was a strong favorite at 8 to 5, with the Columbia Stable's Woodshade second in demand at fours, while Oriza and H. T. Griffin's Listaway were well played at sizes. In the early stages of the race it looked as if Interlude would gallop home alone, but he stumbled later on and threw Burns out of the saddle. The jockey clung to the colt's neck, however, and regained his seat, but the accident probably lost the race. In the last few strides Minder got Oriza up in time to win from Woodshade by a head in 0:50 3-5. Transmigration, 20 to 1, was third, three parts of a length WARHINGTON, April s .- August Belmont

"Father Bill" Daly got back into his winning Sack.

"Father Bill" Daly got back into his winning stride when Colonsay carried his colors to the front in the third race, for three-year-olds at seven furlongs. Star and Garter, who was made favorite at 7 to 2, was never dangerous. Little Boy and Springbrook were in front until the head of the stretch, when Odorh brought Colonsay out of the bunch and landed him, winning by a neck in a drive from Lord Advocate, who was a length and a half before Little Boy.

As Mrs. Frank Foster was thought to have had too much racing lately the wise men ignored her in the first race, at six furlongs, and went to Demurrer and Dr. Saylor, who closed at 11 to 5 and 12 to 5, respectively. But after Demurrer had shown the way for half a mile, Mrs. Frank Foster, under Redfern's great handling, passed the Deceiver horse and in a heavy dive won by a length and a half from Dr. Saylor. There was plenty of bumping and swervingin the race, and Burns, who rode the second horse, lodged a protest of foul against the winner, but it was not allowed. Pageant, who finished third, swerved to the outer rall in the last skyteenth, otherwise he might have taken the place for which he was beaten by half a length.

The form players were all at sea as to the winner of the fourth race, at seven furlongs. Nearly every horse in the race was backed, Lady Potentate going to the post a lukewarm favorite at fours. True Blue and Eloim made the running for half the journey, when Meistersinger. 10 to 1, disposed of them and won by a length from Tommy Foster, who won the other day at 100 to 1. Animosity was third, a length back.

Flo Russell, the favorite in the fifth race, for maidens at six and a half furlongs, ran away below her form and was next to last in a field of ten. The winner turned up in Prancer, an 8 to 1 shot, who beat Heagthsville, 1a to 1, by three parts of a length. Michaelmas, 30 to 1, was third, half a length. In the last event, at a mile and 100 yards, H. L. Coleman, the odds-on favorite, was

In the last event, at a mile and 100 yards, H. L. Coleman, the odds-on favorite, was beaten half a length by Sir Florian. Betting on Goldsby in this race went on for some time before it was found that he was ineligible and had been withdrawn. All money placed on him was refunded. It was a hard day for the talent as six favorites were beaten. The weather was fine, the track good and the crowd large.

FIRST RACE. was held at the offices on Forty-second street on Wednesday, but after it was over it was said that there would be nothing to be given out until after a day of deliberation. Yesterday morning a brief typewritten statement was furnished for the daily and the technical papers. Nothing momentous was found in it. It was stated that a committee on chauffeurs, the rames of whose members were withheld, had reported progress and that but one new active member had been elected, but the identity of the new concern was kept secret.

W. C. Whitney's horses that have been wintering at Alken, S. C., have arrived at Sheepshead Bay in the care of John W. Rogers. They came North in four palace horse care, especially fitted for them, and all were in splendid condition. Goldsmith apparently is as sound as he was in his two-year-old form and will be pointed for the Suburban Handicap. Gunfire, the four-year-old daughter of Hastings—Royal Gun, who has been picked by John E. Madden to win one of the big handicaps, has filled out wonderfully and is a magnificent-looking race mare. Forty men and boys came here with Mr. Whitney's string, which is now quartered in the millioniare's private stables near the head of the Futurity course at the bay. In relation to the Carroll D. scandal at black filly, by imp. Lissak.—Rassan.

In relation to the Carroll D. scandal at Bennings, it is said that the Metropolitan Turf Association may investigate the charge that one of its members profited largely by the defeat of Daly's ooit whose rider. Miles, has been suspended by the stewards.

It is stated that W. J. Arkell intends to race in England next fall and several seasons thereafter with the Earl of Kintore as partner. Philip J. Dwyer has engaged Willie Sims to ride for him this year.

Frank Farrell, who has been looking over his stable at Gloucester, says that he may not start Blues in the early handleaps, but may reserve him for long-distance events later on. Shaw will probably ride for Mr. Farrell this year instead of Martin.

Troop C. N. G. N. Y., Capt. Debevoise commanding, was at home to its friends last night, and the armory, on North Portland avenue, Brooklyn, was crowded to the doors. A squad of twelve was on guard at the entrance and the drill room was decked out with flags and banners. It was the annual reception of the troopers, and the invitations were in great demand.

There was nothing on the programme in the way of competition, the policy being, to quote a trooper, "To do what all could do." The result was some clever riding in special features and a very accurate and finished drill. The opening was a troop drill by platoons one and four, rough riding, including wrestling on horseback, followed by a selected corps, and then there was a music ride by platoon one. In dress uniforms and mounted on spirited horses, the troopers went through the manœuvres with a dash and precision that brought out great applause. The other features of the programme were an extended order drill by platoon two, an exhibition mounted game of ball by platoon four, riding at will by a selected division, which included hurdle jumping with three horses abreast ridden by a trooper standing, and, to conclude the entertainment, firing at disk and head-cutting over hurdles by platoon three.

WASHINGTON, April 3.-At a conference between President Pulliam of the National Baseball League and his staff of umpires, held at Old Point Comfort yesterday, radical steps were taken to enforce rules for the pre-vention of "kicking and rowdyism" at professional games, and an important construc-tion relating to the rights of pitchers and their movements when in the box and settling a question which has long been under discussion was placed on Rule 29. The new con-struction on this rule states that "the pitcher in taking his position shall place no part of either foot back of the rubber, nor shall he take more than one step in delivering the ball to the bateman," which will do away with all preliminary steps allowed under the present rule either to the rear of or side of the pitcher's rubber; and a violation of which will be considered a balk.

A stricter interpretation of the rules prohibiting the bateman from balking the catcher and the rules prohibiting the infielders from interfering with base runners when caught between bases was also agreed upon, together with the following new requirement and interpretation:

No bateman will hereafter be allowed to take first when hit by a slowly delivered ball, the umpire to be the judge of such speed.

Emphasis is laid on the rule requiring runners to keep within the three-foot lines in going to first, and in general, notice is given to the literal enforcement of the playing rules.

Secretary Heydler, who with President Pulliam, Umpires Emslie, O'Day, Johnstone and Moran, comprised the conference, said to-night, under authority from President Pulliam, that these interpretations would make a great difference in the actions of players on the field, and that they would be strictly enforced during the coming season.

Mr. Heydler stated also that the action of the conference would be submitted to and in all probability sanctioned by the officers of the American League.

National Sporting Club Ready to Match

Champion Against Jordan or Curiey. When Young Corbett puts on the gloves again for a serious contest it is likely that he will do so in England. The National Sporting Club of London is anxious to have the champion go abroad and meet some good man in his class there, either on Derby night or some time next fall. If Corbett consents, which is very likely, he will not appear in England until the fall, possibly during October or November. It is understood that Corbett intends to take a good rest. He says he will devote most of his leisure time picking up some easy money on the road with a theatrical troupe. Corbett is a good card now and can dietate his own terms.

If Corbett is matched to fight in England his opponent will be either Will Curley or Ben Jordan. Jordan is the most popular featherweight in England at present and can command any amount of backing. It is not thought that he will concede any weight to the Denver Boy, and that if a fight is made Corbett will have to scale the featherweight limit. 122 pounds, Curley is not so particular. He is ready to box Corbett at 177 pounds, which is the champion's best weight. Curley can reduce to 124 on a pinch. He is clever and a stiff puncher, and in the opinion of the sports who saw him fight George Dixon at the Broadway A. C., this city, several years ago, the mill should prove to be a good one.

gether for twenty rounds before the Century A. C., and the mill went the distance, terminating in a draw. Woods's showing was a surprise to his mest ardent supporters. He met all of Walcott's rushes with judgment and gave the champion some stiff blows on the wind and on the jaw. Walcott made a hurricane mill of it from the beginning. Woods was not to be cheeked and struck back, having Walcott in distress on a number of occasions.

The fight was very bitter in the seventeenth round. Walcott, after leading with the right, received a terrife swing on the jaw. Woods rushed in to follow up his advantage, but before he could get home a deciding punch the bell clanged. In the eighteenth round Woods was a bit tired but in the nineteenth he rallied and pounded away at Walcott's stemach. The final round was lively, both scoring staggering blows. Walcott seemed to be much used up at the finish. Walcott was a decided favorite in the betting, but Woods's friends cleaned up a tidy sum, betting heavily that he would be on his feet at the finish.

Easter Vacation for Yale Garamen.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 3.—For the first time in the history of rowing at Yale the Yale crew candidates will have an Easter vacation from next Wednesday to the following Monday. Capt. Waterman has decided to give the men this rest in place of the one-day vacation on Easter Bunday, which has been the custom formerly. Con Daly of last year's crew is not in the boat as yet, but since he resumed training two weeks ago he has been working hard to regain his place, which he will probably do soon. The crew has been rowing in this order for several days:

Boston, April 3.—The national boxing championships of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States were decided last night at Union Hall, Cambridge, under the auspices of the Riverside Brat Club. Each bout was scheduled to go three rounds, and, as the entries were numerous, the meeting was not over until late.

Freetdeat of Western Association.

Becretary Morean said yesterday that the executive committee of the Metrapolitian field Association would meet on next Thurday to arrange the details of the championahip tournament at Deal Beach, on May 17-50. A vote will be taken as to whether the qualifying round shall be maintained or no. On account of the instablous one of the general handicap list of the association, the field is never very bulky, and there is no objection on this account to all-match play. There were fifty-serve nettries last year, which is the average yearly entry. At the annual meeting of the M. G. Sir Thomas Lipton stated to the correspondent of TRE SUN to-day that although there had been no match race as yet between the two boats over a regular course, he was satisfied that the challenger was much faster than Shamrock I. on all points save running. It can be taken for granted that there is no mistake about the challenger's phenomenal speed on the wind in moderate weather. Just at present she is only a little better in spinnaker work than the Shamrock I., but Designer Fife is sanguine that he will be able to improve her in this particular too.

Against Young Corbett. Tom Sharkey believes that Dave Sullivan still possesses the ability and strength to whip any featherweight in the ring and offers to back him against any 128 pounder, printo back him against any 128-pounder, principally Young Corbett. Sharkey said yesterday: "I will post a forfeit next week to bind a match between Sullivan and Corbett and will bet any part of $5,000 that Dave will win Sullivan is just as stiff a puncher as Corbett and equally as clever. If the match is arranged there are a number of places outside of San Francisco where the scrap can be held. There is Fort Eric, Cavada, for instance. The International A. C. of that place is ready to give a good-sized purse as soon as the men are matched. Sullivan, who is in fair shape, will be ready to fight Corbett about Memorial Day."
